RESERVE AGENT REPORTS

Crop Movement Effectuated Without Heavy Soil on Fed- eral Reserve System

Minneapolis, Nov. 27.—The crop movement in the Northwest has been largely effected without heavy calls on the Federal Reserve System by the monthly report of J. H. Rich, federal reserve agent for the Ninth district. Generally improved banking conditions are reflected in the summary, which follows:

"The credit situation as reflected by the condition of banks operating in this territory has apparently reached a turning point. The customary increase of loans and deposits, and Federal reserve note issues, incident to crop moving, has taken place. However, both country and city banks were less dependent upon this Federal Reserve Bank or their other correspondents for loans or rediscount accommodation during October and the early part of November. A large part of this improvement was effected by city banks through the sales of security holdings while the country banks apparently were obtaining genuine liquidation."

"That credit conditions have reached a turning point is also indicated by a statement made by this bank and completed this month covering all banks in the four complete states contained in this district on comparable dates since 1919. Deposits have been rising steadily since June, 1921, and loans have been declining since June, 1920. However, some of the earnings assets have been shifted to real estate and other investments. Nevertheless, the ratio of total invested funds to total deposits has nearly reached par, thus placing the operating banks in a position in a better statistical position than they have held at any time since 1919. The steady trend of deposits upward which lasted for about two years has finally influenced the course of total invested funds in the same direction."

Must View All

"The fact that banking conditions in some localities have not been altogether satisfactory does not detract from the conclusion that the credit situation in general has improved. These isolated instances of banking difficulties are typical symptoms of the final stages of liquidation and the early stages of reconstruction. The fact that a substantial improvement has taken place is commonly overlooked for a time by the majority of people because their attention is distracted by more spectacular events of a local character."

"Business activity in the cities of this district during October as reflected by individual debits at banks, increased 10 per cent as compared with September and maintained the level of October a year ago. The increase during the month is to be accounted for largely by a heavy movement of livestock, improved retail trade in the cities, record-breaking shipments of linseed products, a substantial westward movement of coal on the lakes, and well sustained output by lumber manufacturers. This improvement is noteworthy because forest production in Minnesota reached the lowest point in any October since 1910, iron ore mined declined 10 per cent, retail trade in country districts increased less than a seasonal amount and fell 17 per cent below a year ago, while wholesale trade declined in all lines except hardware and dry goods."

Building Unchanged

"Prospective business activity, as reflected by building permits granted in the important cities of this territory, remains practically unchanged. As compared with last month there was an increase in the number of permits and a decrease in the total valuation. This indicates an increasing proportion of smaller projects, which reduces slightly the average building permit. To some extent this change is due to the prevailing custom of obtaining more building permits at certain seasons of the year than at others. This seasonal character of the construction industry should be modified considerably, both in the interest of social economy of our labor power and business equipment, and also in the financial interests of the builders themselves. Careful investigation shows that construction labor of all kinds is much more easily obtainable in the winter months and a selection of the more efficient laborers is therefore possible. Also, concerns furnishing material are able to take care of all orders promptly without exacting premiums and architects and contractors are able to devote more time and attention to such projects as are given in their charge. Indeed, some contracting firms are beginning to quote a preferential rate for work arranged to be done in the dull months. Such a movement to divert all possible construction

TABERT FAMILY IS PAID $20,000 BY PUTNAM LUMBER CO. TO SETTLE SUIT GROWING OUT OF BOY'S DEATH

Officers of the Company Are Exonerated in a Statement

Flogged to Death in Southern Lumber Camp

Langdon, N. D., Nov. 28.—Payment of $20,000 has been made by the Putnam Lumber Company of Wisconsin to the family of Martin Tabert of Munich, N. D., who died in a convict labor camp conducted by the company in Florida, following a flogging given by Walter Higginbotham, "whipping boss."

This payment has been accepted by the Tabert family as settlement of its claims against the lumber company, doing away with any necessity for court action, according to an announcement made today by States Attorney G. Grimsom of Cavalier county, who was instrumental in having Higginbotham brought to trial and convicted on a charge of second-degree murder and who has since been representing the Tabert family in the negotiations with the Putnam Lumber Company.

The settlement will in no way affect the handling of the case of Higginbotham, who has appealed to the Florida supreme court to have the verdict of second degree murder found against him set aside. This appeal will be strongly resisted, Mr. Grimsom said.

In a statement made by Benjamin Tabert, father of the flogging victim, the president, director and other high officials of the Putnam Lumber company, are exonerated from having any wilful participation or guilty knowledge of Martin Tabert's death. Martin Tabert was arrested in Florida in January, 1922, and was farmed out to the Putnam Lumber company under the convict leasing system then in practice in a number of Florida counties. He died in February, 1922. Nearly a year after his death his family, living near Munich, N. D., received a letter from Glenn Thompson, a fellow prisoner, charging that Tabert's death was due to ill treatment.

MILLION AND HALF DAMAGE DONE BY FIRE

Six-Story Building Among Those Destroyed in De- troit, Michigan

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 28.—Fire starting from an overheated stove in a watchman's shanty early today destroyed the Detroit and Windsor Ferry Company docks housing United States emigration and customs offices, spread to the six-story Manager building which was burned to the ground and then destroyed a four-story warehouse and several small buildings on Woodward avenue and Bates street. When the fire was brought under control a few minutes after five o'clock this morning the total loss was estimated at $1,500,000. The warehouse of the Finsterwald Furniture Company was consumed by the flames, fanned by a brisk easterly breeze. The fire-swept section at the foot of Woodward avenue was one of the oldest in the city and some of the buildings burned had been standing fifty years. Three persons were injured one probably seriously.

6 ARRESTED FOR ROBBERY

New York, Nov. 28.—Six additional arrests of men suspected of participating in the slaying and robbery of two Brooklyn bank messengers on November 14 were made today. Five were taken in a raid on an apartment in the Bronx while Anthony Pantano accused of being the "tip off" man for the gunmen was arrested at his Brooklyn home. Barlow and Joseph Darmand, brothers, already are in custody charged with murder and robbery.

AVERAGE ANNUAL BOARD BILL OF DAKOTA FARMS IS SET AT $804

Fargo, N. D., Nov. 28.—Eight hundred four dollars represents the total cost of board on the average North Dakota farm home during the year 1922, according to statistics compiled by Ruth Kennedy Willard, state agent in home management at the North Dakota Agricultural college.

Of this amount, but 61 percent was produced on the farm, while 39 percent was purchased from grocery stores, meat markets or similar establishments. The grocery bill varies greatly on the different farms from which costs were compiled, but 39 percent is the average amount spent for this part of the total board expense.

The farms were divided into four groups and it was found that one group spent 38 percent for groceries, another spent 36 percent, another 48 percent and the fourth group spent 58 percent, making a grand average

The state's attorneys' conference called by Attorney-General Shafer early this afternoon adopted resolutions assailing a "nation-wide spirit of lawlessness and disrespect for the law" and urged that annual conferences be called hereafter by the Attorney-General.

The resolutions, reported by a committee headed by States Attorney Wineman of Grand Forks county, follow:

"That we highly commend Governor Nestos and Attorney-General Shafer for calling this conference and recommending that a similar conference be held annually upon the call of the Attorney-General."

"That the present nation-wide spirit of lawlessness and disrespect for law and order is a challenge to America that demands action and attention by all good citizens and we emphatically approve the recent message of President Coolidge to the Conference of Governors at Washington and endorse the sentiments of Governor Nestos expressed to this conference of law enforcement and we heartily endorse the plans of Governor Nestos and Attorney-General Shafer of holding conferences of states attorneys, sheriffs and peace officers throughout the state in the interest of law enforcement."

"That no permanent organization be effected at this time but that in lieu thereof the Attorney-General appoint a legislative committee of three state attorneys to make recommendations to the next conference of state attorneys."

"That we highly commend and approve the splendid effort of the Federal Prohibition Officials in North Dakota in the enforcement of the prohibition law and that we assure the Federal Prohibition Officials of our hearty cooperation."

The morning session was devoted chiefly to discussion of routing matters which came before states attorneys, punctuated with explanations by Henry Rende, fire marshal, and Dr. A. A. Whittemore, state health officer, of methods by which their departments and state's attorneys can cooperate.

Prohibition and the anti-cigarette law were discussed only incidentally as a part of the routine work of the attorneys. States Attorney Allen of Burleigh county declared that since cigarettes may not be sold in North Dakota but may be used for the conference might either urge the (Continued on Page 3)

BIG MEETING PLANNED

Great Civic Gathering Is to
Be Held on December 5
By Association

W. H. Webb was re-elected president of the Association of Commerce in the annual meeting of the board of directors held late yesterday. The re-election by the directors was a result of the successful leadership of the organization during the past year by Mr. Webb, who was the first president of the new organization.

Dr. N. O. Ramstad was elected first vice president; Edward B. Cox, treasurer, and A. F. Bradley, secretary-manager.

The directors, at their meeting, took action to turn a part of the annual meeting to be held on the evening of December 5 to the discussion of lignite coal and its future.

A big program of speakers is planned for the annual meeting, including Governor Nestos, former Governor L. B. Hanna and Major Stanley Washburn, president of the North Dakota Lignite Coal Operators' association.

It is planned to hold the annual meeting of the association at the city auditorium. It will be made a big civic meeting, with the general public invited. Representatives of the press from Minnesota, South Dakota and North Dakota will be invited, and it is expected that representatives of the lignite industry will be present from various parts of the state. It is planned to make the meeting one of the big civic events of the year.

JUDGE YOUNG'S WILL FILED IN CASS COUNTY

Value of Estate Is Placed Not to Exceed $300,000 in Petition

Fargo, Nov. 28.—The will of the late Judge N. C. Young, former chief justice of the North Dakota supreme court and petition for the appointment of executors prepared for in the state will be filed in the Cass county probate court today.

Mrs. Ida V. Young signed the petition which asked for the appointment of the First National Bank of Fargo, Horace Young and Chas. W. Spaulding, Jr., as executors. The petition places the value of the state at not to exceed $300,000.

Under the terms of the will a trust fund of $150,000 is established, the income to be used by Mrs. Young during her lifetime. Bequests are made to several brothers and sisters of Judge Young. The residue of the estate is divided equally between the children of Judge Young.

Manila, Nov. 28.—(By the A. P.)—Four Moros were killed in a clash with a constabulary detachment near Bayan in the province Lanao on the island of Mindanao, according to a dispatch received here from the governor of the province.

There were no casualties among the constabulary forces. The red flag, moral symbol of unrest, has been raised in several sections of the province of Lanao.

VESSEL TO BE RESTORED

Jacksonville, Fla., Nov. 28.—Judge Arthur Roberts Call of the U. S. district court in an opinion handed down today upheld the contention of members of the crew of the British auxiliary schooner Louise F. that the vessel was brought within the three mile limit against the wishes of the officers. His opinion says he will restore the vessel to its owners without bond under writ which followed. Federal agents had instituted proceedings against the vessel, charging that she had delivered liquor to Florida coast.

LODGE, MAGNUS MEET; PRAISE EACH OTHER

WALLACE CHALLENGED

Washington, Nov. 28.—Senator Magnus Johnson of Minnesota called upon Senator Lodge in company with Senator Smoot. The two talked about genealogy, history and politics for half an hour, although policies which divide the conservative Republicans and radicals were not referred to in the conversation.

Senator Johnson told the Senate leader that he had always been a Republican but that the Republicans in his State were not responsive enough to the needs of the masses, and that he had joined the Farmer-Labor Party. Incidentally, he revealed a connection with New England through his wife, who is a lineal descendant of General Putnam.

As to his Republicanism, Senator Johnson assured the Republican leader that he had served "two terms" in the Minnesota Senate as a representative of that party, and was a delegate to the Republican Convention in 1916, where he enjoyed Senator Lodge's speech very much.

A Happy Meeting

Apparently, it was a very happy meeting. Senator Lodge said he was "greatly impressed" with his visitor, and the caller was equally complimentary, asserting that Senator Lodge was a "fine gentleman."

The East and West, two men extreme in politics and training, met, became better acquainted, and enjoyed meeting each other. The meeting also knocked into the discard the ancient New England prejudice that while the "Low" talk to the Cabots, the Cabots talk only to God.

Senator Johnson told Senator Lodge that he desired to be of service and to help in committee work so far as he was able. Senator Lodge then offered, on behalf of the Republican organization, to provide committee places for the Republican group for Senator Johnson and his colleague, Senator (Continued on Page 3)

KLAN FORCES FACE FIGHT IN LEGISLATURE

ROLL PUBLICITY ASKED

Senator, Admitting Self Member of Klan, Says No Further Legislation

Oklahoma City, Nov. 28.—(By the Associated Press)—Having taken definite steps to unmask the Ku Klux Klan in Oklahoma, the upper house of the state legislature prepared to consider again today the bitterly contested question of membership in secret organizations.

Action is expected on a motion presented by opponents of such legislation to eliminate from a proposed anti-Klan bill a section compelling officers of all secret organizations in the state to file their names with the constituted authorities.

This clause represents the last of their sponsors' proposals for a provision to invest stringent regulatory powers in the act by requiring all such officers to reveal their complete membership rolls for public inspection.

All of the others have been defeated by the concerted attack of the so-called "Klan faction." It was said this condition prompted Senator Harry O. Glasser of Enid, a leader of the anti-Klan forces, to declare yesterday he is convinced that the present temper of the senate will not permit the passage of adequate anti-Klan legislation.

In defending the organization in a brief speech just before adjournment of yesterday's session, Senator Clyde Nichols of Burtavia, admitted he is a member of the Ku Klux Klan at Muskogee but declared that his oath to the Klan did not conflict with one to support constitutional government.

Oklahoma City, Nov. 28.—(By the Associated Press)—Arraignment of J. C. Walton, former Governor, on six indictments charging diversion of public funds and dispersal of a meeting of the state legislature was continued today until Monday.

The deposed executive was to have entered pleas this morning and the continuance was taken by agreement after it was found that four jury trials were docketed for today.

GOLDEN RULE DAY ENDORSED

Self-Denial to Aid Near East
Relief Is Proposed

Golden Rule Sunday, set for December 2, was endorsed today by Governor Nestos in a letter to A. J. McDougall, state director of Near East Relief work. The Governor said:

"It gives me genuine pleasure to endorse the proposal to observe Sunday, December second, as Golden Rule Day and to urge upon the people that they evidence the spirit of thanksgiving by remembering those who are in distress and more especially the hundreds of thousands of Christian orphans, the young great organizations is sheltering, clothing, and feeding in the Near East."

"We need to have the Golden Rule brought to our attention with great frequency. I am confident that if our people and our officials would make the Golden Rule dominant in their thoughts, words, and deeds that it would not only helpfully transform the lives of the individuals but it would do more than anything else to restore industrial and economic peace at home and insure peace and progress in international affairs. The universal observance of the Golden Rule alone can secure and insure the prosperity, happiness and welfare of our people."

"May the day be generally celebrated and your labors for the suffering and down-trodden be crowned with great success."

UTILITY RATE REBATE MAY BE ORDERED HERE

Additional Importance Attached to Hughes Electric
Case as Result of Delay

BOND WAS REQUIRED

Utility Required to Put Up
$10,000 Bond when It Stop-
ped Hearing by Injunction

Additional importance to consumers attaches to the hearing by the railroad commission on the rates, charges and practices of the Hughes Electric Company of this city, set for December 17, because of the fact that consumers may obtain rebate of any charge found to have been excessive during the past year, in the opinion of officials connected with the case.

The petition for a reduction in rates was filed a year ago. An injunction was obtained by the utility to prevent a hearing before the railroad commission which ordered a hearing to determine whether or not the rates were just and fair to consumers. The court required a bond of $10,000 from the utility to protect the consumers and to repay them any excess charges found to have existed from the time of issuance of the injunction.

The case, which involved the validity of the public utility laws, went to the supreme court and the court upheld the laws. Subsequently the injunction was lifted in district court. The matter is now ordered for hearing. Whether the bond continued beyond the time of the dissolving of the injunction is said to be in debate.

The practice followed in previous cases in Grand Forks and Fargo was that rebates were ordered over a considerable period, when the rate hearing was held up in court for a considerable period. Commissioner McDonnell of the railroad commission said today. In response to inquiry on behalf of consumers as to whether or not it is necessary to file a protest against rates, or a demand for a rebate, in order to get it in the event rates are reduced, Commissioner McDonnell said this was not necessary. The railroad commission's order would cover the rebate period. It is possible that the rebates ordered might exceed the bond of $10,000.

The case is expected to be heard fought both by the utility and on behalf of the consumers, involving the testimony of experts for the company and the report of accountants and engineers for the railroad commission.

BANK CLOSED

St. Paul, Nov. 28.—The First State Bank of Moorhead was ordered closed today by the state banking department it was announced.

The bank which had deposits aggregating $400,000 at the time of closing had a capital stock of $50,000. Frozen assets and depleted reserves were given as the reason for the closing.

Telegram Asks Investigation
to Uncover "Mysterious
Influences" at Work

President Coolidge was asked by Governor Nestos, in a telegraphic statement last night, to urge a congressional investigation of the attempt of railroads to boost lignite coal rates 45 to 65 per cent. He declared the question was more far-reaching than lignite rates merely, involving the economic future of the state and the determination of whether or not it can be halted at any time by pressure of eastern interests to raise freight rates, to check the lignite industry.

The governor declared that the situation constituted an emergency vitally affecting the industrial future of the state and for this reason he deems it his duty to place it before the president.

The railroads, he said, had declined to withdraw the new lignite tariffs which they filed and which were suspended temporarily by the state railroad commission and that Interstate Commerce Commission pending hearings. He cited the telegram of one traffic manager of a Northwestern road to the effect that the increase was made because of "instructions" from "our connecting lines."

"The promise apparently is that rates must be fixed to enable coal coming from twelve hundred or two thousand miles away to compete with the product of the state. The Twin Cities travels only five hundred miles. It seems to us of the Northwest that this action in regard to rates is taken chiefly to protect the market for eastern coal of which there is nearly twelve million tons at the Duluth docks being a surplus of nearly five million tons above the five million tons which they wish to export. It is unfair to the people of North Dakota who are seeking to develop one of its natural resources and unfair also to the Northwest which needs our coal. It is clear while lignite coal is being sold in the Twin Cities in carload lots between five dollars and six dollars a ton that it is impossible for eastern coal interests to advance their prices above the present rates which they might do if this competitor were destroyed by excessive freight rates. As I have stated the Interstate Commerce Commission has suspended these rates. The people of the Northwest have an implicit confidence in the character and fairness of this board and doubt not that we will secure justice through this medium. It is because we believe, however, that there is a great and economic principle involved more far reaching both as to North Dakota and the nation than the rates on lignite coal that on behalf of my state, its citizens, and this industry I respectfully urge the wisdom of a congressional investigation to ascertain, first, who are these mysterious 'connecting lines' who have the power and authority to cause the Northwestern railroads to institute a rate which it sustained would and the development of one of North Dakota's greatest assets, and secondly, what mysterious influences are at work in the east or elsewhere which by forcing high freight rates on North Dakota coal can exact from the people of the Northwest one dollar to two dollars more per ton for their coal."

"It must be apparent that no foreign capital will be invested in North Dakota coal development or any other industry based on coal while the belief prevails that the moment any industry created in North Dakota begins to grow it can and will be strangled by rates arbitrarily fixed at the behests of mysterious forces as hostile to the state as the industries threaten losses to any eastern competitor such increase of rates may suddenly deplete North Dakota of its inheritance in natural resources and its geographical location in regard to its own markets. If the Dakotas and eastern Montana, under whose prairies live one-third of the total coal areas of the United States are not permitted to supply the Northwest with the advantage from their eastern friends to diversify is largely a hollow pretence and a mockery. It is because I deem fairness in competition to be a vital factor in establishing a permanent prosperity not only in North Dakota but throughout the West that I present to ask you as chief executive of a great nation to urge Congress to investigate the situation. New conditions as these described above be brought about and to devise ways and means to enable the North to gather the fruits of its natural inheritance within its natural market without molestation by interest whose headquarters are two thousand miles away. The people of the Northwest realize the problems of the railroads and the difficulties under which they have labored. They have tried to eliminate unfair criticism and unfair action toward them."

Petition

Fargo, Nov. 28.—The will of the late Judge N. C. Young, former chief justice of the North Dakota supreme court and petition for the appointment of executors as provided for in the will were filed in the Cass county probate court today.

Mrs. Ida V. Young signed the petition which asked for the appointment of the First National Bank of Fargo, Horace Young and Chas. W. Spaulding Jr., as executors. The petition places the value of the estate at not to exceed $300,000.

Under the terms of the will a trust fund of $150,000 is established, the income to be used by Mrs. Young during her lifetime. Bequests are made to several brothers and sisters of Judge Young. The residue of the estate is divided equally between the children of Judge Young.

Five Are Killed in Clash with Constabulary in Philippines

Manila, Nov. 28.—(By the A. P.)—Four Moros were killed in a clash with a constabulary detachment near Bayan in the province Lanao on the island of Mindanao, according to a dispatch received here from the governor of the province.

There were casualties among the constabulary forces. The red flag, moral symbol of unrest, has been raised in several sections of the province of Lanao.

VESSEL TO BE RESTORED

Jacksonville, Fla., Nov. 28.—Judge Arthur Roberts Call of the U. S. district court in an opinion handed down today upheld the contention of members of the crew of the British auxiliary schooner Louise F. that the vessel was brought within the three mile limit against the wishes of the officers. His opinion says he will restore the vessel to its owners without bond under writ which will follow. Federal agents had instituted proceedings against the vessel, charging that she had delivered liquor to Florida coast.

BIG MEETING PLANNED

Great Civic Gathering Is to
Be Held on December 5
By Association

W. H. Webb was re-elected president of the Association of Commerce in the annual meeting of the board of directors held late yesterday. The re-election by the directors was as a result of the successful leadership of the organization during the past year by Mr. Webb, who was the first president of the new organization.

Dr. N. O. Ramstad was elected first vice president, Burt Finney, second vice president; Edward B. Cox, treasurer, and A. F. Bradley, secretary-manager.

The directors, at their meeting, took action to turn a part of the annual meeting to be held on the evening of December 5 to the discussion of lignite coal and its future.

A big program of speakers is planned for the annual meeting, including Governor Nestos, former Governor L. B. Hanna and Major Stanley Washburn, president of the North Dakota Lignite Coal Operators' association.

It is planned to hold the annual meeting of the association at the city auditorium. It will be made a big civic meeting, with the general public invited. Representatives of the press from Minnesota, South Dakota and North Dakota will be invited and it is expected that representatives of the lignite industry will be present from various parts of the state. It is planned to make the meeting one of the big civic events of the year.

LODGE, MAGNUS MEET; PRAISE EACH OTHER

WALLACE CHALLENGED

Washington, Nov. 28.—Senator Magnus Johnson of Minnesota called upon Senator Lodge in company with Senator Smoot. The two talked about genealogy, history and politics for half an hour, although policies which divide the conservative Republicans and radicals were not referred to in the conversation.

Senator Johnson told the Senate leader that he had always been a Republican, but that the Republicans in his State were not responsive enough to the needs of the masses, and that he had joined the Farmer-Labor Party. Incidentally, he revealed a connection with New England through his wife, who is a lineal descendant of General Putnam.

As to his Republicanism, Senator Johnson assured the Republican leader that he had served two terms in the Minnesota Senate as a representative of that party, and was a delegate to the Republican Convention in 1916, where he enjoyed Senator Lodge's speech very much.

A Happy Meeting

Apparently, it was a very happy meeting. Senator Lodge said he was "greatly impressed" with his visitor, and the caller was equally complimentary, asserting that Senator Lodge was a "fine gentleman."

The East and West, two men extreme in politics and training, met, became better acquainted, and enjoyed meeting each other. The meeting also knocked into the discard the ancient New England lyric to the effect that while "The Lowells talk to the Cabots, the Cabots talk only to God."

Senator Johnson told Senator Lodge that he desired to be of service and to help in committee work so far as he was able. Senator Lodge then offered, on behalf of the Republican organization, to provide committee places from the Republican quota for Senator Johnson and his colleague, Senator (Continued on Page 3.)

ROLL PUBLICITY ASKED

Senator, Admitting Self Member of Klan, Says no Further Legislation

Oklahoma City, Nov. 28.—(By the Associated Press)—Having taken definite steps to unmask the Ku Klux Klan in Oklahoma, the upper house of the state legislature prepared to consider again today the bitterly contested question of membership in secret organizations.

Action is expected on a motion presented by opponents of such legislation to eliminate from a proposed anti-Klan bill a section compelling officers of all secret organizations in the state to file their names with the constituted authorities.

This clause represents the last of their sponsors' proposals for a provision to invest stringent regulatory powers in the act by requiring all such orders to reveal their complete membership rolls for public inspection.

All of the others have been defeated by the concerted attack of the so-called "Klan faction." It was said this condition prompted Senator Harry O. Glasser of Enid, a leader of the anti-Klan forces, to declare yesterday he is convinced that the present temper of the senate will not permit the passage of adequate anti-Klan legislation.

In defending the organization in a brief speech just before adjournment of yesterday's session, Senator Clyde Nichols of Enid, admitted he is a member of the Ku Klux Klan at Muskogee but declared that his oath to the Klan did not conflict with one to support constitutional government.

PRESIDENT IS ASKED TO AID LIGNITE FIGHT

Requested by Governor to Urge Congressional Investigation of Rate Boost

SEEK MOTIVES FOR IT

Telegram Asks Investigation
to Uncover "Mysterious
Influences" at Work

President Coolidge was asked by Governor Nestos, in a telegraphic statement last night, to urge a congressional investigation of the attempt of railroads to boost lignite coal rates 45 to 65 per cent. He declared the question was more far-reaching than lignite rates merely, involving the economic future of the state and the determination of whether or not it can be halted at any time by pressure of eastern interests to raise freight rates to check the lignite industry.

The governor declared that the situation constitutes an emergency vitally affecting the industrial future of the state and for this reason he deems it his duty to place it before the president.

The railroads, he said, had declined to withdraw the new lignite tariffs which they filed and which were suspended temporarily by the state railroad commission and Interstate Commerce Commission pending hearings. He cited the telegram of one traffic manager of a Northwestern road to the effect that the increase was made because of "instructions" from "our connecting lines."

"The promise apparently is that rates must be fixed to enable coal coming from twelve hundred or two thousand miles to compete with a home product which in the case of the Twin Cities travels only five hundred miles. It seems to us that the Northwest that this action in regard to rates is taken chiefly to protect the market for eastern coal of which there is nearly twelve million tons at the Duluth docks being a surplus of nearly five million tons above the five year average and that such course, it is unfair for eastern coal of North Dakota who are seeking to develop one of its natural resources and unfair also to the Northwest which needs our coal. It is clear while lignite coal is being sold in the Twin Cities in carload lots between mere dollars and six dollars a ton that it is impossible for eastern coal to compete with the price of the Northwest. The people of the Northwest have an implicit confidence in the character and fairness of this board and doubt not that we will secure justice through this medium. It is because we believe, however, that there is a great and economic principle involved more far reaching than as to North Dakota and the nation than the rates on lignite coal that on behalf of my state, its citizens, and this industry I respectfully urge the wisdom of a congressional investigation to ascertain, first, who are these mysterious 'connecting lines' who have the power and authority to instruct our Northwestern roads to institute a rate which is sustained would be the development of one of North Dakota's greatest assets, and secondly, what mysterious influences are at work in the east or elsewhere which by forcing high freight rates on North Dakota coal can exact from the people of the Northwest one dollar to two dollars more per ton for their coal.

"It must be apparent that no foreign capital will be invested in North Dakota coal development or any other industry based on coal while the belief prevails that the moment any industry created in North Dakota begins to grow it can and will be strangled by rates arbitrarily fixed at the behests of mysterious forces as soon as the product of these industries threaten losses to any eastern competitor such increase of rates may suddenly deprive North Dakota of its inheritance in natural resources and its geographical location in regard to its own markets. If the Dakotas and eastern Montana, under whose prairies live one-third of the total coal areas of the United States are not permitted to supply the Northwest, then the advice from our eastern neighbors to diversify is largely a hollow pretence and a mockery. It is because I deem fairness in competition to be a vital factor in establishing a permanent prosperity not only in North Dakota but throughout the West that I presume to ask you as chief executive of this great nation to urge Congress that a congressional committee be appointed to determine how such conditions as these described above can be brought about and to devise ways and means to enable the Northwest to gather the fruits of its natural inheritance within its natural markets without molestation by interests whose headquarters are two thousand miles away. The people of the Northwest recognize the problems of the railroads and the difficulties under which they have labored. We have tried to eliminate unfair criticism and unfair action toward them. UTILITY RATE REBATE MAY BE ORDERED HERE

tached to Hughes Electric
Case as Result of Delay

BOND WAS REQUIRED

Utility Required to Put Up
$10,000 Bond when it Stop-
ped Hearing by Injunction

Additional importance to consumers attaches to the hearing by the railroad commission on the rates, charges and practices of the Hughes Electric Company of this city, set for December 17, because of the fact that consumers may obtain rebate of any charge found to have been excessive during the past year, in the opinion of officials connected with the case.

The petition for a reduction in rates was filed a year ago. An injunction was obtained by the utility to prevent a hearing before the railroad commission which ordered a hearing to determine whether or not the rates were just and fair to consumers. The court required a bond of $10,000 from the utility to protect the consumers and to repay them any excess charges found to have existed from the time of issuance of the injunction.

The case, which involved the validity of the public utility laws, went to the supreme court and the court upheld the laws. Subsequently the injunction was lifted in district court. The matter is now ordered for hearing. Whether the bond continued beyond the time of the dissolving of the injunction is said to be in debate.

The practice followed in previous cases in Grand Forks and Fargo was that rebates were ordered over a considerable period, when the rate hearing was tied up in court for a considerable period. Commissioner McDonnell of the railroad commission said today. In response to inquiry on behalf of consumers as to whether or not it is necessary to file a protest against rates, or a demand for a rebate, in order to get it in the event rates are reduced, Commissioner McDonnell said this was not necessary. The railroad commission's order would cover the back period. It is possible that the rebates ordered might exceed the bond of $10,000.

The case is expected to be heard fought both by the utility and on behalf of the consumers, involving the testimony of experts for the company and the report of accountants and engineers for the railroad commission.

GOLDEN RULE DAY ENDORSED

Self-Denial to Aid Near East
Relief Is Proposed

Golden Rule Sunday, set for December 2, was observed today by Governor Nestos in a letter to A. J. McDougall, state director of Near East Relief work. The Governor said:

"It gives me genuine pleasure to endorse the proposal to observe Sunday, December second, as Golden Rule Day and to urge upon the people that they evidence the spirit of thanksgiving by remembering those who are in distress and more especially the hundred thousands Christian orphans that your great organization is sheltering, clothing, and feeding in the Near East.

"We need to have the Golden Rule brought to our attention with great frequency. I am confident that our people and our officials would make the Golden Rule dominant in their thoughts, words, and deeds that it would not only help to transform the lives of the individuals but it would do more than anything else to restore industrial and economic peace at home and insure peace and progress in international affairs. The universal observance of the Golden Rule alone can secure and insure the prosperity, happiness and welfare of our people.

"May the day be generally celebrated and your labors for the suffering and down trodden be crowned with great success."

HOLIDAY TRADE WILL BE GOOD SAYS REPORT

Manufacturers Have Been Chief Sufferers Because of Buyers Actions

EFFECTED METAL TRADE

Mail Order Houses Report
Gains of 16 Per Cent
Over 1922

Indications are that the holiday trade will be good, according to the monthly review of business conditions in The Nation's Business, official publication of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. It is pointed out that "while retail trade, retarded by unusually heavy rains in wide areas or warm weather in others has not come up to trade expectations generally in the last month, it has after all shaped up fairly well. Jobbing trade has likewise held up moderately well, but sales for next spring or beyond have lagged because of uncertainty as to the reception awaiting higher priced cotton goods."

"Manufacturers have perhaps been the chief sufferers because of the refusal of buyers to assume risks or because high cost of raw materials, notably the textiles and particularly cotton, have made them disinclined to go ahead piling up stocks. Recent searching for new reasons for the failure of demand to consume the product of the vastly larger capacity available for manufacture now as compared with earlier years has seemed to center on the question of costs. This is despite the fact that wages are high, employment active as rarely before, savings bank deposits increasing, and sales of certain one-time luxuries larger than in any except the wildest of boom times."

"In casting up the visible changes which have come to sight in the last month or so a few of the things that stand out quite clearly may be mentioned. The rise of five or more cents a pound in cotton has been helpful in states like Texas, and the Carolinas. The buying of cotton goods for next spring and beyond has been, until lately, under the check rein of the higher prices necessarily asked. Unwillingness to buy as well as unwillingness to sell far ahead has been a bar to some business. In the matter of wheat, which was tied by corn prices for a while early in October, there is complaint of high prices affecting the flour-milling industry with some necessity to go far afield for supplies."

"The metal trades have been variously affected by different degrees of demand. Pig iron and scrap metal have weakened steadily in price; but on the other hand, steel mill operations have receded as a whole, and steel prices have been fairly well maintained owing to the buying of supplies by automobile makers, the railroads, structural material users and Japan, with reports of large sales of tin plate for the first quarter of 1924. Pig iron production is still receding in price and production, but at a slower rate than recently, and steel production fell only one per cent below September while pig iron output dropped 2-1/2 per cent."

"Such measures of movement as are available at the present time do not tell the world an especially gloomy tale. Bank clearings show a slight loss from a year ago when the largest total in twenty-two months was rolled up, most of this decrease being at New York and a few southwestern and northwestern cities, where depression in oil or unsatisfactory agricultural conditions is noted. Failures show a seasonal increase, but are still below the receding totals recorded at this time a year ago. Building permits point to a sharp rally. Pig, iron and steel production figures are the lightest since late last winter, but greatly exceed those of any month in either 1922 or 1921. Automobile output for October is estimated as the largest since June, and has in fact been only exceeded in four previous months in the country's history. The mineral oil industry is still depressed and stocks are still increasing, while gasoline prices, despite large consumption, are still being cut. The price of copper is about at the year's lowest and some western mines are either reducing wages or operations."

"One of the best statistical showings is that given out by leading mail-order houses, which report a gain of 44 per cent over September, and of 25 per cent over October a year ago. The October total is the best since March, 1920. Leading chain stores' reports point to a gain of 16 per cent over October, 1922, and the total sales of goods at retail in city and country by the largest mail-order and chain-store concerns are 20 per cent greater than in October a year ago. It may of course be said that these concerns are not truly representative of retail trade as a whole. The ten months' sales of these concerns, however, total $553,000,000. If retail trade in other lines should exceed that of October a year ago, it would be no small achievement when the big swelling in trade in October of 1922 is remembered. In other words, final distribution so far as can be measured thus early is probably well above last year for October, and thus far in November and for the year to date is far ahead, 25 per cent in fact, of 1922."

BANK BANDITS CAPTURE COP, DRIVE AWAY

Force Motorcycle Officer to Drive Them to Oklahoma
Border After Robbery

Joplin, Mo., Nov. 27.—With a captured policeman at the wheel of their automobile four bandits who participated in a robbery of the Asbury bank at Asbury, Mo., yesterday drove to freedom.

The kidnapped officer, Clarence Allison, local motorcycle patrolman, engaged the men single handed in a field near Crestline, Kans., only to be overpowered and made an instrument in their escape.

Under cover of darkness the men released Allison at the Devils Promenade, an Indian stamping ground near the Missouri-Oklahoma line while they fled.

The officer made his way back to Joplin where he related his experiences. He said the bandits chattered gaily and divided their loot while he was driving them. Approximately $12,000 was obtained by the bandits. On coming out of the bank the bandits were subjected to a baptism of fire. Charles Care, president of the institution, and P. Yuell, a garage man, warned by a burglar alarm, opened fire from across the street, probably wounding one man.

WILL ALTER LOAN PLAN

Federal Bank to Meet Objections, It Is Reported

Washington, D. C., Nov. 28.—A meeting of all the secretary-treasurers of Farm Loan associations in North Dakota is to be held at an early date for the purpose of working out satisfactory plans for the closing of farm loans, according to assurances received by Congressman George M. Young, North Dakota, from the Federal Farm Loan Board. In the meantime members of the board state that loans will be closed up in such a way as to meet the requirements of the various borrowers, either by having all Satisfactions of Mortgages or Releases of Liens sent to the Federal Land bank at St. Paul for the closing up of the loan at that place, or else by the forwarding of checks to secretary-treasurers where the circumstances are such that that course can be followed.

Recently the Federal Land bank at St. Paul adopted a rule to not close any loan until the receipt by it of an Abstract of Title showing the land to be free of all incumbrances. Complaints were immediately registered that this would work a great hardship to borrowers, because in many cases they would be obliged to make a temporary loan in order to furnish an abstract showing clear title, and that the negotiation of the temporary loan might cause considerable cost and annoyance, and perhaps in some cases it might not be possible to borrow the money temporarily. It is understood that the officials of the Federal Farm Loan Board and the officials of the Federal Land bank at St. Paul are anxious to work out a plan which will be entirely satisfactory to the borrowers, and until a permanent plan has been agreed upon it is believed the temporary arrangement will be found workable.

254 Thanksgiving Days
Until We Had Telephones

A struggling little group of Pilgrim colonists at Plymouth, Massachusetts, founded Thanksgiving Day in 1621. It was 254 years later, in 1875, that the telephone was born.

The Pilgrims led a rigorous life beset with dangers and hardships. Their only means of communication called for tedious journeys on foot over unbeaten trails or along the treacherous waters of an uncharted coast.

Today, we commemorate Thanksgiving with all the conveniences of modern civilization, and the celebration is a much more joyous occasion because of them.

We are now a nation of 110 million people, spread over a land 3,000 miles from coast to coast. But we are all linked together by 36 million miles of wire of the Bell System and connecting companies, so that everyone may talk to anyone, anywhere.

NORTH DAKOTA INDEPENDENT TELEPHONE CO.

The Spirit of Thanksgiving Day

IT LIVES FOREVER. The years cannot age it. Brightening eyes, lightening hearts gather in the home, and America rings with a captivating and mystic joyousness. Doors are open wide and friendliness is extended on all sides. And so the rejoicing of our little band of Pilgrim fathers has been carried through the years until today a great nation joins as one in offering thankfulness to the guiding powers for the wealth and prosperity that is here.

BURLEIGH CO. HOTELS BEST N. D. AVERAGE

Inspection Shows Them in Good Condition—Logan County Leads All

Hotels of Burleigh county received an average score of 91.2 per cent, as compared with the state average of 89.1 per cent for 1922, according to the report of R. O. Baird, State Food Commissioner, who has charge of the enforcement of the hotel law, together with other regulatory measures of the state.

Reports of our inspectors show that the condition of hotels in North Dakota has improved during the past year. This is the statement of Mr. Baird, State Food Commissioner who has charge of the enforcement of the hotel law and other regulatory measures.

During the past year 42 new hotels were opened, 21 old hotels were renovated, 58 were closed and 6 were destroyed by fire, leaving a net of 612 hotels in the state for 1923, as compared with 613 in 1922, according to figures in the report.

Logan county hotels made the highest average score for 1923, 96.2 per cent, and Oliver was lowest with 76.5 per cent. For the fourth consecutive year, Valley City took first place among the cities with an average score of 95.5 per cent.

MILLION AND HALF PICKED UP IN STATE

"Pin Money" Made by Shipping Four Million Pounds of Butter During Year

Fargo, N. D., Nov. 28. — North Dakota farmers picked up $1,500,000 of pin money by shipping nearly four million pounds of butter to the five principal consuming centers of the country last year, according to figures in the 1922 yearbook of the U. S. department of agriculture.

Chicago was the principal market center for North Dakota butter, total receipts at that city from North Dakota in 1922 being 3,049,000 pounds. Boston received 302,000 pounds from this state, Philadelphia 253,000 pounds, New York 246,000 pounds, and 145,000 pounds went west to San Francisco.

North Dakota farmers need have no fear of causing an over-production of butter in the country if they double the number of dairy cows in the state, as North Dakota contributed less than one percent of the total number of pounds of butter received at these five points.

Having met Senator Lodge and having mastered the labyrinthian passages to the Capitol, settled his offices and rented a house, the new district Senator is all set for the opening of Congress.

Challenges Wallace Meanwhile, being a man of action and to keep in trim he has challenged Secretary Wallace of the Department of Agriculture to a milking contest. The date hasn't been set, but the bout will be staged in one of the model dairy barns at the Government farm at Beltsville, Md. It will be dry-hand, pail between the knees, two quarters at a time straightaway, with tail-holders and anti-kicking devices barred, and without any of the fudging tricks invented long ago by the legion of farm hands who "can milk but don't like to." The bacteria count will be suspended. Home on the farm in Minnesota, Senator Johnson does his share of the milking aided by his wife and boys. His hand is in; his grip is good, his wrist supple. Secretary Wallace, having for some time been a publisher and more lately a Cabinet officer, may be out of training. There will be no handicapping, however.

The trophy, although unannounced, will be Senator Johnson's opinion. That, in fact, is what led to the challenge. When Senator Johnson first came to Washington he and Secretary Wallace were photographed together.

"We farmers must stand together," observed the Secretary. "Listen to that," Senator Johnson cried. "We farmers."

FIRE DAMAGES TOWN

Woodworth, Nov. 28. — Fire destroyed two residences in the east part of this town Tuesday, causing a loss of $3,000. The houses were owned by the Farmers State Bank and Andrew Schmidt, and both were partly covered by insurance. The bank house was occupied by John Ruff, son and daughter and the house and entire contents were destroyed. They estimate their loss at $1200 with no insurance. They also lost about $100 in money.

The fire spread to the Schmidt residence occupied by Mr. and Mrs. A. Sandberg and family. Everything was saved in the residence. A strong northwest wind was blowing and both houses burned to the ground in thirty minutes.

BURLEIGH CO. HOTELS BEST N. D. AVERAGE

Inspection Shows Them in Good Condition—Logan County Leads All

Hotels of Burleigh county received an average score of 91.2 per cent, as compared with the state average of 89.1 per cent for 1923, according to the report of R. O. Baird, State Food Commissioner, who has charge of the enforcement of the hotel law, together with other regulatory measures of the state.

Each year inspectors are sent out to examine the rooms and kitchens of the 612 hotels in the state and to score them according to cleanliness, safety and convenience for guests. Hotel proprietors are required to conform with the state law and provide fire extinguishers, fumigate or clean up their premises if necessary, order new mattresses and springs to replace worn-out or unsanitary ones, etc.

Hotels of Logan county led the state with an average score of 96.2 per cent, while the Oliver county score was the lowest, 76.8 per cent.

Conditions Improve. "Reports of our inspectors show that the condition of hotels in North Dakota has improved during the past two years," is the statement of Mr. Baird, State Food Commissioner who has charge of the enforcement of the hotel law and other regulatory measures. "The average percentage score from the inspections in 1921 was 88, while in 1922 and 1923 the inspection scores have averaged above 89."

During the past year 42 new hotels were opened, 21 old hotels were reopened, 58 were closed and 6 were destroyed by fire, leaving a net of 612 hotels in the state for 1923, as compared with 613 in 1922, according to figures in the report. As a result of the inspections, many improvements were required, including the ordering of 40 fire extinguishers, 4 new mattresses, 6 springs, 2 fire escapes, fumigation of 7 hotels and thorough cleaning of 14.

Logan county hotels made the highest average score for 1923, 96.2 per cent, and Oliver was lowest with 76.8 per cent. For the fourth consecutive year, Valley City took first place among the cities with an average score of 94.5 per cent. Other cities ranked as follows: Jamestown, 93.8; Mandan, 92.8; Bismarck, 92.3; Dickinson, 91.5; Fargo, 89.3; Grand Forks, 88.3; Devils Lake, 88.5; Minot, 88.4; Williston, 82.8.

N. W. BANKING SITUATION IS HELD BETTER

(Continued from Page 1) tion work toward dull seasons should be encouraged as it will help to utilize our labor and capital more efficiently as well as to stabilize general business conditions. The financing of building projects can be arranged with equal facility at all times of the year.

Stock Sales. "Livestock receipts at South St. Paul were fully one-fourth greater than in October a year ago, owing to an extraordinarily heavy run of hogs which was reflected in lower prices. Also, butcher steers and cows declined in price because of the very average quality usually shown in the grassed range cattle which were then coming to market."

Grain receipts at Minneapolis and Duluth-Superior terminals declined about one-fifth as compared with the preceding month due to unseasonal declines in the movement of wheat, rye, and barley. This was reflected in the rise in median prices of all grains. However, flax showed an increase of 12 cents in spite of a very large movement well above a month ago. This stability of grain prices in the face of declining exports as compared with a year ago, is remarkable.

LAWLESSNESS IS ASSAILED BY ATTORNEYS

The conference was to adjourn this afternoon.

Put Prisoners to Work. Put prisoners sentenced to county jails to work at hard labor, was the advice given by J. B. Wineman, veteran State's Attorney of Grand Forks county, to the state's attorneys, law enforcement officers conference here yesterday afternoon.

The county attorneys, under the law, in sentencing persons to jail for misdemeanors sentence them to hard labor, but few counties have work houses, Mr. Wineman said. He urged they be put to work in some manner.

"I am firmly convinced that a great many persons who now deem a term in the county jail, particularly in the winter time as a luxury, would change their mind, if they were put to hard labor," said Mr. Wineman. He suggested additional deputy prosecutors on Attorney-General's staff to aid in liquor law enforcement, to be paid for by counties; establishment of statutory form of depository bond and law requiring banks to clear checks within three days from date of receipt, to combat bad check evil.

Former Judge C. A. Pollock of Fargo, prohibition leader in state, speaking at conference last night, inveighed against the practice of suspending sentences in liquor cases.

"At the present time," reports gathered from clerks of the courts of the state, show that in 50 percent of the cases for violation of the prohibitory law, the jail sentences have been suspended," he said.

The eighteenth amendment and prohibitory laws were defended by him as "a concrete statement, in terms of advancing civilization, of an enduring principle of human government."

He also urged strict enforcement of the Anti-Cigarette law of the state and use of the injunction law to close places of persons found to be violators of the prohibition and Anti-Cigarette laws.

Pardon Board Needs Aid. Justice A. M. Christianson of the supreme court, speaking at the afternoon session, told the state attorneys that states attorneys and district judges ought to aid the state pardon board in its work. Declaring that pardon cases are usually one-sided presentations, he urged states attorneys to give positive recommendation in each case. It is not surprising that there have been so many pardons, with cases presented in a one-sided manner, he said.

Justice Christianson referred to the supreme court.

"The supreme court is sometimes called a lazy man's job," he said. "If sitting down is that it is. But if working to two or three o'clock in the morning, as every member must do in time of stress, it is not."

MILLION AND HALF PICKED UP IN STATE

"Pin Money" Made by Shipping Four Million Pounds of Butter During Year

Fargo, N. D., Nov. 28.—North Dakota farmers picked up $1,500,000 of pin money by shipping nearly four million pounds of butter to the five principal consuming centers of the country last year, according to figures in the 1922 yearbook of the U. S. department of agriculture.

Chicago was the principal market-center for North Dakota butter, total receipts at that city from North Dakota in 1922 being 3,049,000 pounds. Boston received 302,000 pounds from this state, Philadelphia 253,000 pounds, New York 246,000 pounds, and 145,000 pounds went west to San Francisco. The average wholesale price received for butter at these points ranged from 39 to 41 cents per pound, while the average farm price in North Dakota last year is estimated at 33 cents.

North Dakota farmers need have no fear of causing an over-production of butter in the country if they double the number of dairy cows in the state, as North Dakota contributed less than one percent of the total number of pounds of butter received at these five points. Total shipments from North Dakota were 3,995,000 pounds, while total receipts at these five points from all parts of the country were 636,425,000 pounds.

HOLIDAY TRADE WILL BE GOOD SAYS REPORT

Manufacturers Have Been Chief Sufferers Because of Buyers Actions

EFFECTED METAL TRADE

Mail Order Houses Report Gains of 16 Per Cent Over 1922

Indications are that the holiday trade will be good, according to the monthly review of business conditions in The Nation's Business, official publication of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

It is pointed out that "while retail trade, retarded by unusually heavy rains in wide areas or warm weather in others, has not come up to trade expectations generally in the last month, it has after all shaped up fairly well. Jobbing trade has likewise held up moderately well, but sales for next spring or beyond have lagged because of uncertainty as to the reception awaiting higher priced cotton goods."

"Manufacturers have perhaps been the chief sufferers because of the refusal of buyers to assume risks or because high cost of raw materials, notably the textile and particularly cotton, have made them disinclined to go ahead piling up stocks. Recent searching for new reasons for the failure of demand to revitalize the product of the vast larger capacity available for manufacture now compared with earlier years has seemed to center on the question of costs. This is despite the fact that wages are high, employment active as rarely before, savings bank deposits increasing, and sales of certain one-time luxuries larger than in any except the wildest of boom times."

"In casting up the visible changes which have come to pass in the last month or so, a few of the things that stand out quite clearly may be mentioned. The rise of five, or more cents a pound in cotton has been helpful in states like Texas, and the Carolinas. The buying of cotton goods for next spring and beyond has been, until lately, under the cheek rein of the higher prices necessarily asked. Unwillingness to buy as well as unwillingness to sell far ahead has been a bar to some business. In the matter of wheat, which was tied by corn prices for a while early in October, there is complaint of high prices affecting the flour-milling industry with some necessity to go far afield for supplies."

"The metal trades have been variously affected by different degrees of demand. Pig iron and scrap metal have weakened steadily in price; but on the other hand, while steel and business, in the matter of wheat, which was tied by corn prices for a while early in October, there is complaint of high prices affecting the flour-milling industry with some necessity to go far afield for supplies."

"Such measures of movement as are available at the present time do not tell the world an especially gloomy tale. Bank clearings show a slight loss from a year ago when the largest total in twenty-two months was rolled up, most of this decrease being at New York and a few southwestern and northwestern cities, where depression in oil and unsatisfactory agricultural conditions is noted. Failures show a seasonal increase, but are still below the record totals recorded at this time a year ago. Building permits point to a sharp rally. Pig iron and steel production figures are the lightest since late last winter, but greatly exceed those of any month in either 1922 or 1921. Automobile output for October is estimated as the largest since June, and has in fact been only exceeded in four previous months in the country's history. The mineral oil industry is still depressed and stocks are still increasing, while gasoline prices, despite large consumption, are still being cut. The price of copper is about at the year's lowest and some western mines are either reducing wages or operations."

"One of the best statistical showings is that given out by leading mail-order houses which report a gain of 44 per cent over September, and of 25 per cent over October a year ago. The October total is the best since March, 1920. Leaving chain stores' reports point to a gain of 16 per cent over October, 1922, and the total sales of goods at retail in city and country by the largest mail-order and chain-store concerns are 20 per cent greater than in October a year ago. It may of course be said that these concerns are not truly representative of retail trade as a whole. The ten months' sales of these concerns, however, total $553,000,000, of which the October total alone should exceed that of October a year ago, it would be no small achievement when the big swelling in trade in October of 1922 is remembered. In other words, final distribution so far as can be measured thus early is probably well above last year for October, and thus far in November and for the year to date is far ahead, 24 per cent in fact, of 1922."

VICTIM'S WIFE TO HOSPITAL

Mrs. Chapel Is Sent to State Institution For Insane

Minneapolis, Nov. 28.—Mrs. Mille Chapel, widow of Duane Chapel, farmer who was clubbed to death in his home, Maple Plain, Minn., near here, last Thursday, was found to be insane by a county court commission, and today will be sent to the state hospital for the insane at Rochester.

Guy Chapel, 24, her son, who, with his mother, had been held for questioning by the authorities, was released from custody last night.

The disposition of the widow leaves the mystery surrounding the slaying unsolved. A baseball bat with which the elder Chapel is believed to have been beaten to death is the most important clue the officers have to work on. Mrs. Chapel had told the sheriff that a strange man had beaten her husband to death with the club, but authorities said her stories had been conflicting. According to early press dispatches about the murder Wellington Michaels, a half brother of the murdered man is now in the hospital for the criminal insane at St. Peter for the murder four years ago of Nellie Chapel, daughter of Duane.

BANK BANDITS CAPTURE COP, DRIVE AWAY

Force Motorcycle Officer to Drive Them to Oklahoma Border After Robbery

Joplin, Mo., Nov. 27.—With a captured policeman in the wheel of their automobile four bandits who participated in a robbery of the Ashbury bank at Ashbury, Mo., yesterday drove to freedom.

The kidnapped officer, Clarence Allison, local motorcycle patrolman, engaged the men single handed in a field near Crestline, Kans., only to be overpowered and made an instrument in their escape.

Under cover of darkness the men released Allison at the Devils Providence, an Indian stamping ground near the Missouri-Oklahoma line while they fled.

The officer made his way back to Joplin where he related his experiences. He said the bandits chattered gaily and divided their loot while he was driving them. Approximately $1,200 was obtained by the bandits. On coming out of the bank the bandits were subjected to a baptism of fire. Charles Care, president of the institution, and P. Yell, a garage-man, warned by a burglar alarm, opened fire from across the street, probably wounding one man.

C., Nov. 28.—A meeting of all the secretary-treasurers of Farm Loan associations in North Dakota is to be held at an early date for the purpose of working out satisfactory plans for the closing of farm loans, according to assurances received by the bandits. George M. Young, Congressman from the Red River Farm Loan Board, from the meeting members of the board state that loans will be closed up in such a way as to meet the requirements of the various borrowers, either by having all Satisfactions of Mortgages or Releases of Liens sent to the Federal Land bank at St. Paul for the closing up of the loan at that place, or else by the forwarding of checks to secretary-treasurers where the circumstances are such that that course can be followed.

Recently the Federal Land bank at St. Paul adopted a rule to not close any loan until the receipt by it of an Abstract of Title showing the land to be free of all incumbrances. Complaints were immediately registered that this would work a great hardship to borrowers, because in many cases they would be obliged to make a temporary loan in order to furnish an abstract showing clear title, and that the negotiation of the temporary loan might cause considerable cost and annoyance, and perhaps in some cases it might not be possible to borrow the money temporarily. It is understood that the officials of the Federal Farm Loan Board and the officials of the Federal Land bank at St. Paul are anxious to work out a plan which will be entirely satisfactory to the borrowers, and until a permanent plan has been agreed upon it is believed the temporary arrangement will be found workable.

TO BUILD STOCKYARD

Jamestown, N. D., Nov. 28.—Evidence of the increased interest and of the intention of Suttman county farmers to raise, fatten and sell more livestock is seen in the building of a stockyard for loading stock at Klose's Spur on the Midland Continental railroad. H. S. Robbins of that road states farmers along the line are rapidly changing from excessive wheat growing to diversified farming and are increasing their livestock for future shipments. Heretofore there has been no demand for stockyard services at Klose Station, or at other points along the line, but the indications now point to a demand for such shipping facilities at various points.

INJURED IN RUNAWAY
Williston, Nov. 28.—Lewis Grimstead, 54, was brought to the Wittenberg hospital here for treatment for severe injuries received in a runaway on his farm near Carlson. A wheel of the wagon passed over his head and body, crushing his face and fracturing his jaw, and injuring his spine.

254 Thanksgiving Days Until We Had Telephones

A struggling little group of Pilgrim colonists at Plymouth, Massachusetts, founded Thanksgiving Day in 1621. It was 254 years later, in 1875, that the telephone was born.

The Pilgrims led a rigorous life beset with dangers and hardships. Their only means of communication called for tedious journeys, on foot over unbeaten trails or along the treacherous waters of an uncharted coast.

Today, we commemorate Thanksgiving with all the conveniences of modern civilization, and the celebration is a much more joyous occasion because of them.

We are now a nation of 110 million people, spread over a land 3,000 miles from coast to coast. But we are all linked together by 36 million miles of wire of the Bell System and connecting companies, so that everyone may talk to anyone, anywhere.

Miss Boelke Becomes Bride of Mr. Sandy At Home Wedding

A profusion of yellow and orange flowers formed an artistic setting for the wedding of Miss Lillian Boelke, Dickinson, and Wardie Sandy, Bismarck, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Boelke, at 3 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by the minister of the Lutheran church, and took place in the presence of members of the family.

The bride appeared very charming in a gray silk crepe frock ornamented with a cut bead and pearls, and a shower bouquet of pink sweet peas, and was attended by a bridesmaid.

Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at the Boelke home, covers being laid for 16.

Mrs. Sandy has resided in Bismarck for the past four years and has been employed in the office of the state tax commission; for sometime past she has been with the Quaker in Ramstad clinic. She is a graduate of the Dickinson high school. Mr. Sandy is assistant manager of the Bismarck Fruit company, and has made Bismarck his headquarters for the past four years of his career.

Before coming to the capital city he resided in Fargo where he graduated from high school and received his B. S. degree from Fargo college. During the World War he served as a medic with the air service for 27 months, being stationed at Key West, Fla., and the home of the Tenth Army and Chicago, Ill. Also Dec. 10 they will be in the M. Kende hotel to their friends. They expect to make Bismarck their home.

Slobojan-Braserol Join in Marriage

Miss Elizabeth Slobojan of Whittier became the bride of John J. Braserol of Bismarck last evening at 8 o'clock at St. Mary's cathedral.

Attending the couple were Miss Kathleen Braserol, sister of the bridegroom, and Frank Clusen. Following the simple marriage service a prettily appointed wedding dinner was served at the home of the bridegroom's uncle, J. P. Spier. Mr. Braserol has made his home in Bismarck for the past six years, being connected with the Bismarck Dairy company. Mr. and Mrs. Braserol will make their home in Bismarck.

14 Tables Played At B. & P. W. Party

Fourteen tables of bridge were in progress at the bridge party given by the Business and Professional Women at their club rooms last evening. Scores were won by Mrs. M. W. Roan and Miss Gladys Pierce.

An entertainment feature of the evening were the solos sung by Mrs. Frank Barnes with Mrs. Arthur Bauer as accompanist. Mrs. Thomas H. Poole was chairman of the November activities committee in charge of the affair. During the evening refreshments were served.

Mrs. Anna Nielsen will be chairman of the committee for December.

Select Cast For "Oh, Oh, Cindy"

The title role in "Oh, Oh, Cindy," play given under the auspices of the American Legion Dec. 11 and 12 at the Auditorium will be taken by Miss Ilo Miller and playing opposite her as Stephen Craig, her fiance, will be Vern Goddard.

About 125 people were out for the first rehearsal which was held Monday night upon the arrival of Miss Marie Richter who will direct the play.

Other members of the cast and choruses will be announced later.

C. D. of A. Give Carnival Bazaar

Friday afternoon and evening, November 30th, at St. Mary's auditorium the Catholic Daughters of America will give a real up-to-the-minute carnival and novelty bazaar.

There will be a variety of tents containing exhibits of unusual interest. The traditional fastest baby, Siamese Twins, the tallest living woman, and jumping spook will be on hand to amuse. Young ladies and matrons fair desiring to know what future holds in store for them will be furnished an opportunity to visit the seventh daughter of the seventh daughter born on the banks of the Nile.

Booths containing fancy and novelty articles, dolls of all sizes and sizes will be found from which to make selection of Christmas gifts a pleasure and heaps of home-made candy, pop corn and ice cream cones for the kiddies, too.

A one-half hour concert will be given at 8 o'clock consisting of musical numbers and solo dancing.

For the lovers of the Art of Terpsichore good music has been provided and a pleasant evening is assured.

Ice cream and cake, pumpkin pie and coffee will be served during the evening.

MR. YODER LEAVES CAPITAL. A. E. Yoder of Grand Forks, director of the extension division of the university, has returned to his home after attending the A. D. E. A. meeting here last week and looking up material for use in his department. While at the Capital City he obtained some books on North Dakota history, copies of only a few known to be in existence, and other material. Most of the material obtained will be used in meeting the needs of the women's clubs during the coming season.

SHOWER FOR MISS PIETZ. Mrs. Frances Halloran entertained, at a miscellaneous shower yesterday evening complimentary to Miss May Pietz who will be a bride of the Thanksgiving holiday season. A group of intimate friends of Miss Pietz, a teacher in the Will school, several years, were present.

How can Harold Lloyd keep up the pace?

That is a question that has puzzled people inside the motion picture industry as well as the millions of followers Lloyd has won by his clean, wholesome comedy on the screen.

Yet he does. He followed "A Sailor-Made Man" with a great picture in "Grandma's Boy." He maintained the pace with "Dr. Jack," and with "Safety Last" he hit a notch which many felt it would be impossible for him to hit again.

Nevertheless, he has in "Why Worry?" a six-foot force which will be shown at the Capitol Theatre tonight. "Why Worry?" will win many new friends for Lloyd. It is going to prove that Lloyd cannot set a pace too fast for himself. Each picture he makes it becomes more difficult, of course, for him to equal its predecessor, but by a greater effort he always does.

Why Worry? was seen in production in December, and the finishing touches were not made until the fall, or just before Harold and his young bride, Mildred Davis, left for New York on their delayed honeymoon. Few pictures take that long in work. It was a difficult production to make, yet the harder they are the more vigor Lloyd and his staff put back of their efforts.

Lloyd never has taken a step backward. He always travels forward.

THE ELTINGE

A corking good picture is Goldwyn's film version of Austin Strong's successful stage play, "Three Wise Fools," which comes to the Eltinge theatre on Thursday and Friday. It has been directed by King Vidor with all of his feeling for actuality in characterization, in atmosphere and in background.

It's story is that of three old bachelors who agree to take charge of the grown daughter of the girl who had rejected the love of all three of them in their youth. Comedy complications ensue fast and furiously and soon become interwoven in a series of dramatic incidents which are solved happily for all concerned after the girl has been jailed on a charge of aiding and abetting three criminals to break out of prison. "Three Wise Fools" has almost everything in it that the most jaded fan could wish for—comedy, romance, reality, thrills and spectacular moments.

Its cast is of the kind that Goldwyn has accustomed picturegoers to expect. Eleanor Boardman, is the girl—the "three wise fools" are Claude Gillingwater, William H. Crane and Alex Francis. The cast so includes John Sainpolis, Brinsley Haines, Lucien Littlefield, ZaSu Pitts, Martha Mattox, Craig Biddle, J. Creighton Hale and Raymond Hatton. Round one of the new "Fighting Blood" stories is also showing at the Eltinge Thursday and Friday.

Special Thanksgiving Dinner, $1.00 per plate. Lewis & Clark Hotel, Mandan. Dinner served from 12 noon to 1:30 p. m. and from 5:30 to 7:30.

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER

(Established 1873)

DAY OF THANKS

Thanksgiving Day originated as a time of thanks for plentiful harvests which made it certain that the early settlers of America would be able to endure the winter without starving.

Thanksgiving has gradually come to mean much more. It is the time of thanks for all such blessings as good crops, prosperity, health, peace, children, happy homes. In short, it is the one time of the year when the whole nation, regardless of creed or sect, unites in recognition of the spiritual—of our dependence on Almighty God.

Those early New England pioneers endured severe hardships. They lived close to starvation, in fearful cold, amid hostile Indians. They had little to be thankful for, yet they devoutly gave thanks. Surely we should be made thoughtful and appreciatively humble as we ponder how much more we have to be thankful for than the Pilgrims.

STRANGE HOBBY

The world's greatest collection of fleas is presented to the British Museum, whose officials register exquisite delight.

These fleas were collected by the late Nathaniel Rothschild, head of the famous London banking family.

Rothschild took great pride in his fleas. He ransacked the world for them. Expense was no object. He even sent a costly expedition into the Far North to get a specimen of the flea that annoys a certain kind of Arctic seal.

Strange things happen in World Vaudeville, but rarely anything stranger than this hobby of the rich banker.

Up speaks Arthur F. Samme, Englishman, calling attention to his own peculiar collection—match boxes. He has 476 different specimens, and he boasts that it took 14 years to acquire them.

Samme claims, with dignity and confidence, that he is the world's greatest authority on match boxes. No doubt.

In two ways, it's a striking hobby.

Man's instinct for accumulation is, in its simpler form, the quality or virtue known as thrift. Carried to extremes, to its logical conclusion, it is responsible for some people being too rich at the expense of others who remain too poor.

Many a millionaire will smile at Mr. Samme collecting match boxes or Mr. Rothschild collecting rare fleas. But the match boxes and fleas have benefited their owners about as much as excessive possession of dollars benefits the extremely rich.

A queer animal, at times, is man.

In justice to Rothschild, it must be admitted that his hobby did the world a little good, since fleas spread diseases and a knowledge of them is obviously valuable. Which is more than can be said of some collections of dollars.

FLOODED MARKET

Germany has printed marks totaling into hundreds of quadrillions. The whole batch of them are worth about $100,000 in American money, and this includes every mark in the world.

In flooding the market with this money, Germany has collected a fabulous sum from the people who bought the marks, hoping they'd "come back." Some Wall Street bankers estimate that Americans alone have lost (and Germany won) about three and a half billion dollars. The people who bought marks are going to pay a large part of the German indemnity, yes?

PROLONGED LIFE

The monkey gland treatment for old men is discussed at the Royal College of Physicians in England. The leading speaker, Professor E. H. Starling, says the only way to lengthen life materially is by eugenics—by breeding from long-lived individuals.

Every family has what might be called its customary death age, also its danger year. And the number of years the average person is destined to live is generally determined before he is born—by the kind of life led by his father and mother and ancestors who came before.

SIGNIFICANT FACT

A prohibition agent in Georgia has been attending college football games and notices that hip-pocket flasks are quite common among spectators.

The prohibition agent, Dismuke by name, adds that there seems to be less drinking among the students than among the alumni and others of the generation marching toward the discard. This is significant, for the success or failure of compulsory prohibition depends on whether or not prohibition can prevent the rising generation from getting the liquor habit.

INCREASE OF CARS

Railroads in the last 10 months put into service more new freight cars and locomotives than in any corresponding period of the last 10 years. The exact figures are 155,872 freight cars and 3371 locomotives.

This is less than the steel industry hoped for, because railroad buying for several years had been very low. But it's a lot of new equipment and it'll help prevent shortage of cars and motive power—a decided factor in cost of living, especially coal.

INTELLIGENT ANIMAL

An intelligent horse in Illinois watched its farmer-owner, John Fry, pump water from the well. In the early morning Fry hears the pump going. He looks out the window, sees the horse pumping the trough full of water for himself and the rest of the livestock.

This horse demonstrates that he has the ability to observe, discover and imitate. And that's about all there is to intelligence.

EDITORIAL REVIEW

Comments reproduced in this column may or may not express the opinion of The Tribune. They are presented here in order that our readers may have both sides of important issues, which are being discussed in the press of the day.

Early in November the Monitor announced in a front page dispatch from Stockholm that the Swedish Minister of Foreign Affairs, Carl Hederström, had announced himself favorable to an alliance with Finland—a striking piece of news. Since the most probable threat to Sweden, he had said, was still to be feared from Russia, he felt it would be easier to defend the country along the Finnish border than on the Swedish territory. In other words, Sweden would undertake to back up future Finnish independence as a bulwark for itself against Russia. This bold declaration has caused such a storm of criticism and such sharp newspaper attacks that recently Minister Hederström offered his resignation to the King upon the latter's return from his son's wedding in London. The new Minister of Foreign Affairs is Baron E. T. Mäkelin, former chief of the country's representative in the League of Nations. The appointment of such a high functionary, a specialist in international law rather than a political figure, is likely to calm the storm.

This retirement should not be understood as an expression of Swedish hostility to Finland. The relations of the two countries are extremely cordial. The Aaland affair seems largely forgotten. But whether the two countries should form an alliance is another matter, one of political expediency and international policy. Local party politics has played a part. In Sweden there are, as in England, three main parties—the Conservatives, the Liberals, and the Socialists.

Furthermore, Sweden has been by tradition as disinclined to foreign alliances as the United States. Since the dissolution of the century-old union with Norway in 1905, the country has pursued its own way. During the war it made some approaches to both Norway and Denmark for mutual protection, but since the armistice this contact has not been kept up. Even when Finland asked for aid to recover its independence from Russia, the Liberal and Socialist government in Sweden turned an unhearing ear. The "activist" Conservatives then clamored for action, as they had earlier in favor of Germany.

That some definite foreign policy must be adopted by the country all parties realize. An extra session of the Riksdag is to deal this fall with the problem of army reorganization. The Socialists have proposed radical cuts in the army, the Liberals go less far, and the Conservatives, in opposition with the army staff, oppose any serious reduction. Before this question can be settled, a decision must be reached as to general orientation in foreign relations. The parties of the Left have led the country with eagerness into the League of Nations, hoping for a general peace policy, while the Conservatives, skeptical of the League, still favor the old system of particular alliances. If Sweden were to decide to defend Finland against Russia, it would have to arm more heavily than if it should continue to place its faith in the League. The Greek experience with the League this fall has strengthened the Conservative thesis, but though somewhat discouraged, the parties of the Left still have hope. "I do not doubt," said Premier Branting on his return from Geneva, "that in spite of everything the League will grow until it becomes strong."—Christian Science Monitor.

The Day of Fill-Fullment

BY BERTON BRALEY
THERE isn't any question that overeating brings a lot of indignation. And other kindred things; But though our rules of living are strict and sane enough, we sit down on Thanksgiving and we stuff.

IN brisk November weather With diet rules ignored The household gets together About the grooming board. And though they be meeky We care not for its gloom. We have a portly turkey To consume.

WE'RE thankful for each blessing That we have come across— ("Please help me to that dressing And more cranberry sauce"). For all our joys we're grateful Thanksgiving is the word ("I'll take another plateful Of that bird.")

OUR duty lies before us Friends, husbands, children, wives. Come join in on the chorus Of forks and spoons and knives. Let happiness and mirth be About the planet spread And everyone on earth be Overfed! (Copyright, 1923, NEA Service, Inc.)

DIPHTHERIA PREVALENT
Williston, Nov. 28.—The prevalence of diphtheria in McKenzie county resulted in the death of three children near Arnegard and has caused the Watford City School board to order inoculation of all school children with anti-toxin to prevent an epidemic here, and a supply of this preventative has been ordered for that purpose.

It would be awful if there was nothing for reformers to kick about.

SYMPOSIUM OF VIEWS OF CELEBRATED AMERICANS CONCERNING THANKSGIVING

BY WILL ROGERS

I suppose I ought to have a lot of things to be thankful for besides turkey with the wife and kids, but I ain't satisfied.

Of course I'm having a lot of fun making two-reel comedies, but I hanker to show my Art and get fan letters from flappers like they write to Valentino and Lew Cody and those other handsome devils. I ain't got such a bad figure—that's how I got by in the Follies—but I wish I had the sex appeal to get into DeMille's nightgown dramas.

That's what I'd like to be thankful for.

BY BABE RUTH

One more home run to beat out Cy Williams? Well that would have been nice.

But Harry Heilmann for batting honors? That would have been sweet.

One more chance at the old pill in that world series eighth inning, with three men on base? Say, I'd have given my shirt for one more sock.

But if I only had somebody, up here on this farm, to get out and chop all the wood that's waiting for me—that's what I would like to be thankful for.

BY MARY PICKFORD

First, I should like to be thankful for having done something immortal, for having left some indisputably lasting impression; not in a narrowly selfish or vainglorious sense, but in the assurance that some work of mine were accounted a worthy relic of our common human striving and an honor to my profession.

Second, for having freed myself of that fear, that timidity which is the weed strangling humanity; keeping many of us in old ruts, reluctant to assert and do the valid things for which we are made.

which we might be temporarily misunderstood. Until I have achieved them, I shall be thankful that I retain the active dissatisfaction which spurs one on to desired accomplishment.

I'd be thankful if the taste of the American public would improve up to the point where it would be possible to produce Rostand's "The Last Night of Don Juan." I'd be thankful if a traveling man ever came to New York and asked to see something besides a girlie show.

I'd be thankful if Americans got over the passion for expressing everything in figures—51 varieties 99 44-100 per cent-pure, 100 per cent American, etc.

BY SENATOR MAGNUS JOHNSON

First, I should like to have the opportunity to be thankful for the complete absence of poverty, misery, hatred, heartache and work throughout the entire world.

Second, I should like to be thankful for the existence of prosperity and happiness among the farmers, workers and business people of America. The knowledge that every person in the world was enjoying the full fruits of his efforts would make me very thankful indeed. And while the realization of these desires seems far away, yet I find it within me today to raise my voice in thanks that we are making progress toward the consummation of these ideals.

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRESCOTT TO LESLIE PRESCOTT, CARE OF THE SECRET DRAWER

I am so glad, little Marquise, that I have taken your implied advice, particularly in writing to you all my discontent and sorrows, when I have any.

I believe that this is one of the reasons why two people who are married are oftentimes so unhappy. What you will, everyone has to get his anger, his grief, his jealousy and annoyance out of his system some way. Generally we pour it out to the one who is nearest us and the husband or wife is the scapegoat. It is very human to grow tired of being annoyed and unhappy. So the quarrels begin.

If every wife had a little secret drawer, like yours and mine, it might solve many of the problems of her married life. Almost always when a woman speaks angry, contemptuous or cutting words to her husband, she is sorry for it, however much they are deserved and of course doubly sorry if she finds that it is all a mistake.

I am not quite sure—oh, why do I say that?—am almost sure, in my heart I must confess I am really sure, that I have a right to be very unhappy. So unhappy and miserable that I do not know where to begin. Perhaps as good a place as any to start is with Ruth's return from New York.

She had been home three days before she came to see me. I thought this rather strange, although I knew she was very busy and, if I had not gotten Jack to telephone that I was not able to get out of the house, I really would have gone to see her and thought nothing about it.

My cold had developed into a bad case of tonsillitis—just before she returned, but I was much better the day Jack phoned. Ruth sent all sorts of lovely messages to me, but she did not come to see me that night as I had expected. In the meantime Mrs. Smithson called again and I made the mistake of seeing her.

I was not feeling too well. In my mind as I had not received the promised letter from Alice about the pearls and I grew hot and cold every time I thought of what I had done in selling three of them. In some way it seemed to me that I was a thief, for unless Alice knew absolutely that the pearls were real and she had gotten them in a perfectly legitimate way, I knew that I had no right to claim them.

I think it was because I was worrying about this and the fact that Jack had telephoned me he would not come home to dinner, that I welcomed Mrs. Smithson as a stopgap between my misgivings and my loneliness. I had not even let old Nannie bring the baby in for fear I would infect him with my throat trouble. This had made me very unhappy. I felt so lonely without the sight of his little unconscious face and the feel of his little wet mouth.

The thought of it now made me swallow hard, which of course gave me a physical pain as well as a painful heart throb. I think because of this I would have welcomed even Jack's mother, and she is the person the least of all in the world I would ever want to see again.

It was in this frame of mind I told Nannie to tell them downstairs that I would see Mrs. Smithson.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

By Olive Roberts Barton

This is the middle that Nancy and Nick helped the Riddle Lady to write. I don't know what part of it they helped with for Humpty Dumpty was the only one who was in the secret and he wouldn't tell, but it was whispered about that Nick held an ink bottle and Nannie held a blotter.

Anyway, this is the middle: "When my good friend and I go out,

I walk around—I walk about, But though I choose the smoothest street

My friend can't walk! He has no feet! "Another thing that's queer about him

(I don't know what I'd do without him). Is that when we go out together

We always choose the wettest weather. "He's very thin, it's really shocking.

You quite could put him in your stocking.

His ribs are gaunt, his backbone shows. He's skin and bone from head to toes.

"When we go strolling 'round the town

Full half the time he's upside down. Yet that's the time he swells with pride.

Puffs out his sides and stretches wide. "At home my friend's like Jackie Hornor. He much prefers a musty corner.

Because, perhaps, he hates the sun. "You surely he can't think it fun!

"He isn't smart, his head's quite hollow. If I forget him, he can't follow.

Yet he's my friend, this stupid fellow. My wooden-headed, silk—

"My goodness!" exclaimed Doctor Foster, who had stopped the Riddle Lady on his way to Gloucester (Gloucester). "Nobody could guess that in a hundred years."

"You shouldn't have any trouble of all people," laughed the Riddle Lady. "If almost shouted Doctor Foster in such a surprised voice that Nancy and Nick started to dance around him in glee. "No, you shouldn't," cried Nick. "You always get caught in a shower."

"Well, I declare! I declare!" said Doctor Foster, puckering his eyes so hard his eyebrows quite drew together. "There! As usual it is raining. Can anyone lead me an—"

Suddenly his mouth fell open and his eyebrows drew apart. "You can't mean you ain't say—it can't be an umbrella, can it?" he gasped. "Exactly!" said the Riddle Lady. "And that's the prize today and you get it. Don't get wet, now, and watch the puddles."

SLAVE GIRLS BANNED BY POLICE
San Francisco, Nov. 28.—In San Francisco's Chinatown the tailors used to thrive by making scanty clothes for Chinese slave girls. But now, the police report, this trade has diminished to the point that the Chinese tailors are appealing to the Y. W. C. A. secretaries to put them in touch with American families wanting clothes.

The reason for this is said to be that most of the slave girls have been sent away by their owners, largely to small towns. The change in policy is attributed to the activities of Christian missionaries and the police in curbing some of the practices of the tong.

Five Against Sherman; Both Sought For Arrest

Fargo, Nov. 28.—H. J. Hagen and P. R. Sherman, whose extradition from Washington and California, respectively, has been secured by R. A. Newton, were indicted by the Cass county grand jury on a number of charges. Both were officials of the defunct Scandinavian-American bank and both were indicted by the first grand jury. Hagen figures in 22 indictments and Sherman in five.

N. G. Eggen and E. W. Cathro, who already have voluntarily surrendered themselves, figure in some of the indictments with them.

The indictments against them, as made public today, are:

H. J. Hagen and P. R. Sherman, false entry on Aug. 22, 1919 in connection with a loan of $30,000 to the Consumers United States company.

H. J. Hagen, N. G. Eggen and P. R. Sherman, false entry on Feb. 16, 1918 in connection with a $60,000 loan to the Consumers' United States company.

H. J. Hagen, N. G. Eggen and P. R. Sherman, false entry on Dec. 29, 1919, in connection with the renewal of a Consumers' United Stores company loan for $10,000.

H. J. Hagen and P. R. Sherman, false entry on Nov. 5, 1919 in connection with a $17,000 interest computation.

H. J. Hagen, P. R. Sherman and N. G. Eggen, false report on Nov. 22, 1919, to the Cass county auditor in regard to the $17,000 interest computation.

H. J. Hagen, false report to the bank examiner on July 7, 1920, involving the savings account.

H. J. Hagen and N. G. Eggen, false entry on Jan. 15, 1921, of $28,000 involving interest items.

H. J. Hagen and N. G. Eggen, false entry on June 29, 1920 of $13,000 interest items.

Eight indictments against Hagen and Eggen on charges of receiving deposits from Bydstrom, Amundrud, the Konen Taxi company and Loucks after the bank was insolvent.

H. J. Hagen and N. G. Eggen, false report to the bank examiner on Jan. 17, 1921 in regard to savings deposits.

H. J. Hagen and N. G. Eggen, false report on Nov. 22, 1920 in regard to savings deposits and loans.

FATE PURSUES AXT FAMILY

Fatal Accident West of Here
Followed by Accident in California

Mandan, Nov. 28.—Escaping death by a narrow margin at the time of his brothers were killed Joseph Axt, nine, today is in a hospital in Livingston, Calif., with his thumb and first two fingers blown away and badly mangled.

This is another manifestation of the sinister fate which has followed Johann Axt, farmer residing near McClusky, whose crops burned out or blown out every year for the past ten years; cyclones tore down his farm buildings, and creditors foreclosed on his farm. When enroute to California three months ago four of the seven boys of the family were instantly killed at a grade crossing west of New Salem. Joseph who hovers between life and death within three weeks of the crash resulting so fatally for the family had recovered after being seriously injured and was in his new home but two days when he picked up a dynamite cap, which exploded, and as a result is again in a hospital.

ACCOUNTS OF BANKER O. K.

Despondency Over Closing of Bank Led to Suicide

Larimore, N. D., Nov. 28.—No inquest is necessary in connection with the suicide of P. L. Ames, president of the closed Elk Valley Bank of Larimore, who shot himself late Tuesday, county authorities said today. Mrs. Ames left a note telling of his intention to end his life and giving directions for settlement of his affairs. Despondency over the closing of the Elk Valley Bank a week ago evidently caused his suicide but officials of the bank and a deputy state bank examiner, joined today in declaring that his accounts were in perfect order and there were no irregularities in his administration of the bank's affairs.

Three shots were fired by the banker in an effort to end his own life. One wounded him slightly in the ear and another crashed through his brain. The first shot, apparently for the purpose of testing the revolver, was heard by his wife, who ran to the woodshed from whence the sound came and saw her husband lying on the floor. She immediately went to the telephone to call a doctor and while doing this heard two other shots which presumably were those which were fatal.

PEOPLE'S FORUM

The Editor of the Bismarck Tribune, Bismarck, N. D.

Dear Sir:—

On April 24th 1923 there was mailed to me the following letter:—

Mr. R. L. Best,
Bismarck, N. D.

Dear Sir:—

A Central Committee, representing the Masons, Elks, Rotary Club, Lions Club, Knights of Columbus, American Legion, Odd Fellows, Knights of Pythias and United Commercial Travelers, has been formed for the purpose of obtaining a closer co-operation between the teachers in our public schools and the parents and it is believed that such co-operation can best be obtained by the visitation of the schools by the parents.

Yours very truly,
R. L. Best,
Bismarck, N. D.

To The Central Committee of Mens Organizations.

Organizations, Bismarck, N. D.

Gentlemen:—

Your letter of April 24th informing me that I was designated as a member of one of the organizations to visit the public schools to aid in the co-operation between teachers and the parents, received and I am glad that I have this honor.

I always know how the teachers are working and the results that they are getting with my own girls, because I watch the report cards of my children and when they get low marks in some subject, I or my wife helps them to make good in the next examination.

I have three children who have started in their education in the Public Schools of Bismarck. One graduated in 1918 and was admitted to one of the best colleges in the United States on her school record. Another was admitted to the Junior class in the best High school in Milwaukee, Wis. and the third one to the grade schools, and all of them on their school record in Bismarck. We have also been told by the teachers in Milwaukee "You must have wonderful schools in North Dakota."

I did not feel that I could draw a good conclusion of the results that our teacher were getting, by simply visiting the schools during recitation or study periods, so I went directly to the Superintendent and found that we have fifty four teachers and six janitors in the City of Bismarck. That there are thirty three teachers who are getting wages between $900.00 and $1400.00 per year and they are expected to, if not required, attend a summer school at their own expense. This makes their yearly salary less than one of the janitors, who gets $110.00 per month for twelve months. $1320.00 per year.

We also have a scout master at upwards of $3,000.00 per year just to look after the boys.

Feeling that it was facts that you wanted I also went to one of the grade schools and asked for a report as to how many pupils they had and how many of them had standings below 80 per cent. I found that out of 351 pupils, 58 of them were below 80 per cent in average standing and I would hate to have one of my girls graduate with a standing below that mark. This shows 16.2 per cent of the pupils of that school below 80 per cent. However in one grade a number of them have been trying to make up a year and a half's work in the one year which no doubt accounts for the large percentage in that particular grade. Now you parents. How many of your children are below this mark?

And how many of you watch the cards that the teachers send to you and when the child is below a certain mark in one subject, work with them until they get a better mark? Don't you know that these teachers are not SPECIAL TUTORS and cannot give your child any special work?

I also find that some of the smallest salaries paid are in the 1st, 2nd, and 3rd grades. Now really men were you to start to build a building, would you hire the cheapest man you could get to build the foundation?

Am just offering food for your thoughts and hope that some few efforts may be corrected by your efforts.

Very truly,
R. L. Best.

Editor The Tribune:—

The message that Count Tolstoy brought us the other day should act as a good tonic on a certain class of people among us.

All who have suffered from the tape-worm of socialism should find the tonic of Tolstoy very helpful, yes a perfect cure. No other living man knows Russia, past and present, like Tolstoy. His peculiar bringing up, his sympathies, his experimental work for helping his countrymen to become a real prosperous, progressive and enlightened people have all tended to make him a true observer and a just judge of experimental socialism.

And what was his verdict? Flat failure, pure and simple! Most of us would have liked a few more particulars, undoubtedly, and yet we are perfectly sure that socialism is as impractical as communism and anarchy.

Undoubtedly many things could be improved on in this world, but take it as a whole the ideas of government have never been far from wrong. Where wrong has been done, the cause has not been the system but the individuals at the head of it. Kaiser, King or President, what is the difference if these are as they should be?

Aye, there is the rub!

Tolstoy propounded a remedy, which his father had discovered and called the Religion of Love. The old Count purported to have found this religion among the Russian peasants. If so, they certainly had not invented it. They had absorbed it from the teachings of Christ.

And it goes without saying that if the world were governed by the law of love, no other scheme of government would be necessary.

But the Count forgot to tell us how a government ruled by the law of love could be inaugurated. He gave us a dark picture of the powers that be in Russia, but he did not tell us how the persons now constituting it could be so amiable, good, kind and just that they would let the law of love have its way.

Christianity is the only force, so history relates, which can change man's heart. And before that is done government by love, the Golden Rule, or any other reform rule, is simply so much soap box orator's bunk. This Russia and North Dakota amply verify.

CHICAGO COLDER THAN BISMARCK

Bismarck was back in the "banana belt" today after slipping out of it with Monday night's chilly blasts. The lowest temperature last night was 31 above. It was colder in Boise, Idaho; Chicago, Des Moines, Iowa; Hiron, S. D.; Kansas City, Mo.; Moorhead, Minn.; Pierre, S. D.; St. Paul, and just one degree colder than St. Louis, Missouri.

There was no below zero weather reported, and it is generally fair over the Northwest.

RECOMMENDS FOLEY KIDNEY PILLS

"Your medicine worked a miracle for me," writes Mrs. C. Biron, 140 Fayette Street, Lynn, Mass. "I was all run down, had a cough all winter, also kidney trouble and after taking a few boxes of your medicine my cough and headache left me. I can eat and sleep well. I canvass and recommend it at every house I enter." Prompt relief secured from kidney and bladder irritations, rheumatic pains through using Foley Kidney Pills. Insist on the genuine—refuse substitutes.

TO OUR FRIENDS AND PATRONS:
WE ARE THANKFUL FOR WHAT?

Again there comes to us the challenge of the season of the year that we be grateful. As we pause before this vast theme, what thoughts come to us? We are reminded that gratitude is always a mark of a great and gracious spirit. Only a prickly hedgehog, the brazen conceited person, the vain self flatter, the one whose supreme contentment is with himself, lacks a thankful spirit.

Some people are more gracious than others in expressing thanks for the common gifts of life. We always find that thankfulness has always had a large place in the lives of people worthwhile. We are thankful for every day comforts of life—fresh air—pure sunlight—wholesome food, for the health to enjoy all these kindred blessings.

For a world of beauty and song, for eyes and ears to sense the glory that surrounds us, and for the beauty of nature.

For hands with which to work, the strength to strive, the power to endure.

We are thankful that whether in service as a toiler with our hands, or with our mental powers, and whether possessed with riches or distressed by poverty, still we are men, still we are part of a great brotherhood, still we have power to choose and do the right for our fellowmen as well as for ourselves.

We are thankful that we can count a friend a friend, regardless of his politics, his nationality, his religion, his business, or the size of his bank account.

Yours for Quality and Service.

WORLD'S LARGEST FLAG

More than 1261 yards of material was used in making this gigantic American flag, unfurled in Detroit on Armistice Day. It weighs 600 pounds and occupies 160 cubic feet of space when folded. It is 150 feet by 90 feet and the blue field is 49 by 60 feet. Photo shows seamstresses sewing in stars and stripes. Hitherto, the biggest flag "championship" has been held by St. Louis, with a banner 78 by 150 feet.

WORLD'S LARGEST FLAG

More than 1261 yards of material was used in making this gigantic American flag, unfurled in Detroit on Armistice Day. It weighs 600 pounds and occupies 160 cubic feet of space when folded. It is 150 feet by 90 feet and the blue field is 49 by 60 feet. Photo shows seamstresses sewing in stars and stripes. Hitherto, the biggest flag "championship" has been held by St. Louis, with a banner 75 by 150 feet.

FATE PURSUES AXT FAMILY

Fatal Accident West of Here Followed by Accident in California

Mandan, Nov. 22.—Escaping death by a narrow margin at this time four of the Axt family were killed today in a hospital in California, with his thumb and two fingers blown away and badly mangled.

This is another manifestation of the sinister fate which has followed Joseph Axt, farmer residing near Mandan, whose crops burned out of him every year for the past ten years; cyclones tore down his farm buildings, and creditors foreclosed on his farm. When enroute to California three months ago four of the seven boys of the family were instantly killed at a grade crossing west of New Salem. Joseph who hovered between life and death within three weeks of the crash resulting as a result of the family had recovered and was in his new home but two days when he picked up a dynamite cap, which exploded, and as a result is again in a hospital.

ACCOUNTS OF BANKER O. K.

Despondency Over Closing of Bank Led to Suicide

Larimore, N. D., Nov. 22.—No inquiry is necessary in connection with the suicide of P. L. Armes, president of the closed Elk Valley Bank of Larimore, who shot himself late Tuesday, county authorities said today. Mrs. Armes left a note telling of his intention to end his life and giving directions for settlement of his affairs. Despondency over the closing of the Elk Valley Bank a week ago evidently caused his suicide but officials of the bank and a deputy state bank examiner, joined today in declaring that his accounts were in perfect order and there were no irregularities in his administration of the bank's affairs.

Three shots were fired by the banker in an effort to end his own life. One wounded him slightly in the ear and another crashed through his brain. The first shot, apparently for the purpose of testing the revolver, was heard by his wife, who ran to the woodshed from whence the sound came and saw her husband lying on the floor. She immediately went to the telephone to call a doctor and while doing this heard two other shots which presumably were those which were fatal.

PEOPLE'S FORUM

The Editor of the Bismarck Tribune, Bismarck, N. D.
Dear Sir:—
On April 24th 1923 there was mailed to me the following letter:
Mr. R. L. Best,
Bismarck, N. D.
Dear Sir:—
A Central Committee, representing the Masons, Elks, Rotary Club, Lions Club, Knights of Columbus, American Legion, Odd Fellows, Knights of Pythias and United Commercial Travelers, has been formed for the purpose of obtaining a closer co-operation between the teachers in our public schools and the parents and it is believed that such co-operation can best be obtained by the visitation of the schools by the parents.

Your name has been given the committee by the officers of your organization and we respectfully request that you visit one or more of our schools during this week.

Signed,
Central Committee of Mens Organizations.

Since that time there has not been a call on the writer, to notify him of a meeting of the Committee in order to receive a report of his findings, so will try, with your help, to let the people know what I found out in regard to the schools of Bismarck.

Inclosed is my report and if you will please put it in the paper it will be much appreciated by me. Thanking you for the kindness, I am,
Yours respectfully,
R. L. Best,
Bismarck, N. D.

IN HIS HOME

of your children are below this mark?

And how many of you watch the cards that the teachers send to you and when the child is below a certain mark in one subject, work with them until they get a better mark? Don't you know that these teachers are not SPECIAL TUTORS and cannot give your child or my child special work?

I also find that some of the smallest salaries paid are in the 1st, 2nd and 3rd grades. Now ready men were you to start to build a building, would you hire the cheapest man you could get to build the foundation?

Am just offering food for your thoughts and hope that some few things may be corrected by your efforts.

Very truly,
R. L. Best.

Editor The Tribune:—
The message that Count Tolstoy brought us the other day should act as a good tonic on a certain class of people among us.

All who have suffered from the tape-worm of socialism should find the tonic of Tolstoy very helpful, yea a perfect cure. No other living man knows Russia, past and present, like Tolstoy. His peculiar bringing up, his sympathies, his experimental work for helping his countrymen to become a real prosperous, progressive and enlightened people have all tended to make him a true observer and a just judge of experimental socialism.

And what was his verdict? Flat failure, pure and simple! Most of us would have liked a few more particulars, undoubtedly, and yet we are perfectly sure that socialism is as impractical as communism and anarchy.

Undoubtedly many things could be improved on in this world, but take it as a whole the ideas of government have never been far from wrong. Where wrong has been done, the cause has not been the system but the individuals at the head of it. Kaiser, King or President, what is the difference if these are as they should be?

Aye, there is the rub!

Tolstoy propounded a remedy, which his father had discovered and called the Religion of Love. The old Count purported to have found this religion among the Russian peasants. If so, they certainly had not invented it. They had absorbed it from the teachings of Christ.

And it goes without saying that if the world were governed by the law of love, no other scheme of government would be necessary.

But the Count forgot to tell us how a government ruled by the law of love could be inaugurated. He gave us a dark picture of the powers that be in Russia, but he did not tell us how the persons now constituting it could be so good, kind and just that they would let the law of love have its way.

Christianity is the only force, so history relates, which can change man's heart. And before that is done government by love, the Golden Rule, or any other reform rule, is simply so much soap box orator's bunk. This Russia and North Dakota amply verify "George."

CHICAGO COLDER THAN BISMARCK

Bismarck was back in the "banana belt" today after slipping out of it with Monday night's chilly blasts.

The lowest temperature last night was 31 above. It was colder in Boise, Idaho; Chicago, Des Moines, Iowa; Hiron, S. D.; Kansas City, Mo.; Moorhead, Minn.; Pierre, S. D.; St. Paul, and just one degree colder than St. Louis, Missouri.

There was no below zero weather reported, and it is generally fair over the Northwest.

RECOMMENDS FOLEY

"Your medicine worked a miracle for me," writes Mrs. Biron, 140 Fayette Street, Lynn, Mass. "I was all run down, had a cough all winter, also kidney trouble and after taking a few boxes of your medicine my cough and backache left me. I can eat and sleep well. I can now recommend it at every house I enter." Prompt relief secured from kidney and bladder irritations, rheumatic pains through using Foley Kidney Pills. Insist on the genuine—refuse substitutes.

TO OUR FRIENDS AND PATRONS:
WE ARE THANKFUL FOR WHAT?

Again there comes to us the challenge of the season of the year that we be grateful. As we pause before this vast theme, what thoughts come to us? We are reminded that gratitude is always a mark of a great and gracious spirit. Only a prickly hedgehog, the brazen conceited person, the vain self flatter, the one whose supreme contentment is with himself, lacks a thankful spirit.

Some people are more gracious than others in expressing thanks for the common gifts of life. We always find that thankfulness has always had a large place in the lives of people worthwhile.

We are thankful for every day comforts of life—fresh air—pure sunlight—wholesome food, for the health to enjoy all these kindred blessings.

For a world of beauty and song, for eyes and ears to sense the glory that surrounds us, and for the beauty of nature.

For hands with which to work, the strength to strive, the power to endure.

We are thankful that whether in service as a toiler with our hands, or with our mental powers, and whether possessed with riches or distressed by poverty, still we are men, still we are part of a great brotherhood, still we have power to choose and do the right for our fellowmen as well as for ourselves.

We are thankful that we can count a friend a friend, regardless of his politics, his nationality, his religion, his business, or the size of his bank account.

Yours for Quality and Service.

MOTHER LOVE LEADS WOMAN TO SURRENDER

Sought by the Chicago Police in Connection with Murder of Factory Man

Chicago, Nov. 28.—A mother's love caused Mrs. Katherine Malm, 19 years old, to give herself up last night to the police who have sought her since the alleged confession of her husband that he shot and killed Edward Lehman, a watchman during an attempted burglary of a knit goods factory three weeks ago.

When she fled to Indianapolis after the arrest of her husband last Friday, she left a two-year-old daughter with her sister here. Her only reason for returning and surrendering she told police was the hope she would see the child again. Questioned regarding her connection with the shooting in which she was wounded she corroborated her husband's statement and completed the evidence which will free Walter Bokelman and Ethel Beck, indicted for the killing Bokelman who has been held since the trial made a false confession in which she said he had killed Lehman, stating that she was the woman accomplice, now known to be Mrs. Malm.

SHERMAN HELD IN CALIFORNIA

Former Cashier of Scandinavian-American Bank Arrested

Fargo, Nov. 28.—P. R. Sherman, former cashier of the Scandinavian-American bank, was arrested in Los Angeles yesterday on charges growing out of the Cass county grand jury investigation of the failure of the bank according to word received here by the sheriff's office.

Sherman has waived extradition and will be returned immediately to North Dakota, it was announced.

Sherman was named in five indictments charging false entry and false report.

F. W. Cathro named in four indictments charging embezzlement appeared yesterday and gave $4,000 bond for his appearance. Cathro formerly was managing director of the Bank of North Dakota.

No Arrests in Dawson Robbery

Although clues are being followed no arrests have been made as yet in the robbery of the Farmers Union Elevator at Dawson last week, States Attorney Llesman of Kidder county said here today at the state's attorney's conference. The robbers blew the safe and obtained $800.

Two nights previous robbers entered the house in which Harry Grim, retired business man lived, and robbed him of $300.

BANKS CLOSED.
The State Bank of Rolla, capital $10,000, deposits $120,000; the Farmers Bank of Gray, capital $25,000, deposits $101,000, and the American Exchange Bank of Watford City, capital $20,000, deposits $43,000, have been closed, according to information received by the state banking department.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel. Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative. No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action. If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime. Thousands take them every night just to keep right, "them, 15" and 30-

COOLIDGE'S MESSAGE TO BE POSITIVE

Not Long But to Contain Many Recommendations, Is Word Filtering Out

Washington, Nov. 28.—President Coolidge put the finishing touches on his message to Congress today and the document was sent to the printer. The message is comparatively brief. White House attaches declaring it to be shorter than the average length of those sent to Congress by Presidents Wilson and Harding.

The President has told visitors that he framed the message with a view to presenting explicit recommendations rather than arguments and disquisitions. His desire, he said, is to impress Congress with the soundness of the recommendations with sufficient force to render arguments unnecessary.

COUNT TELLS OF IGNORANCE OF RUSSIANS

Officials Die Because They Could Only Read the Word, "Alcohol"

Count Tolstoy paid a fine tribute to Bismarck and its hospitality in an address to Rotarians at their weekly luncheon at the McKean hotel today. He said that this city impressed him and that he liked it so well had stretched his stay here to a week.

Giving in tabloid form his address on "The Truth About Russia," which he gave before the state teachers last week, the Count digressed to tell why he was thankful.

"That I am a Russian," he began. "That six years ago I had the foresight to see what was going to happen to that unfortunate country and was thus enabled to leave before the terrors that followed the Bolshevik uprising."

"I am thankful that better days are at hand for Russia and that I live in such a wonderful age. I am and always have been an optimist."

He said that he had to leave Russia in order to save his life. Telling of revolution which he declared was really a revolt of the slaves, he told an incident of the illiterate masses who were in control. One episode drove home his point. A commission of five Bolsheviks had been sent to a station to check up some purchases for the government and when they did not return the government wired and received the word that all of them had died. A second commission was sent out to investigate. It was discovered that the first emissaries had found some American goods at the station. Opening the boxes it was found to be canned wheat. The important representatives of Leningrad could only read one word, alcohol, which Count Tolstoy designated as an "international word."

They thought it vodka and spread it on bread with the result that all died.

The 1924 Model Studebaker Light-Six Touring Car $995

The unprecedented popularity of the Studebaker Light-Six can be traced to the fact that it represents a degree of automobile value that the public has sought for years.

It is built complete in the great Studebaker factories.

By manufacturing complete motors, transmissions, axles, frames, bodies, tops, castings, forgings, and stampings, parts-makers' profits are eliminated from costs, and one profit only is included in Studebaker prices.
